THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH.

The Sub-Committee of the Senate Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads Agree Upon a Bill

WASHINGTON, March 21. — The sub-committee of the senate committee on post-offices and post roads having several postal telegraph bills under consideration has formulated and caused to be printed a bill embodying the views of the majority of the sub-committee, a bill providing that the postmaster general shall establish telegraph offices at all post offices [illegible] county seats and all other postoffices within [illegible] miles of any such city or town where the salary of the postmaster is not less than $1,000 per annum.

The charges for the transmission of telegrams shall be prepaid by telegram stamps or by postal telegraph cards and the maximum rates for telegrams of twenty words or less shall be as follows: Within the limits of transmission of 100 miles or under 20 cents; where over 100 miles or under 200 [illegible] for a greater distance [illegible] for telegrams directed to be transmitted by night [illegible] 500 miles 15 cents; for greater distance [illegible] cents, all words to be counted, and for every five additional words or less one-fifth the additional rate is to be charged. Government business shall have priority in transmission without prepayment and at rates annually fixed by the postmaster general. All other telegrams are to be transmitted in the order received, except night messages.

NEWSPAPER DISPATCHES.

The charges for the transmission of special telegrams to newspapers and commercial news associations for each 100 words or less for each circuit of 1000 miles shall not exceed [illegible] at night and $1 during the day, but when copies of the same telegram are dropped off at one or more offices the rate for each office shall not exceed 50 cents at night and 75 cents during the day and at the same pro rata rate for each word in excess. Where special telegrams are delivered at the same office for two or more newspapers 10 cents additional shall be charged for each 100 words or less for manifolding for each newspaper receiving the same. Telegrams shall be privileged communications in law to the extent [illegible] now are.

The postmaster general shall cause to be issued postal telegraph cards of the denomination of 15 cents, 20 cents, 25 cents, 40 cents and 50 cents, on one side of which words spaces are to be ruled for writing [illegible] Such postal telegraph messages may be deposited in any letter post box at a postoffice where there is postal telegraph or [illegible] in any letter post box which is or may be [illegible] on a letter carrier route and shall be dispatched by the postal telegraph.

MONEY ORDERS.

The money order system existing and now in operation in the postoffice department shall as soon as possible be adopted to the postal telegraph and the charges for transmitting money orders by postal telegraph within the limits of a state wherever money order offices are now or may hereafter be established shall be the rates charged upon money orders transmitted by mail in addition to the regular charge for postal telegrams, but no postal telegram money order shall exceed $100.

The postmaster general is hereby authorized and directed to advertise for three months in two daily newspapers published in each of the cities of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, New York and St. Louis for sealed proposals from any telegraph company or companies [illegible] for the transmission of [illegible] according to the provisions of this act, and shall contract with the lowest [illegible] bidder or bidders to perform, wholly or in part, the telegraph service. Said contract to be entered into for ten years, terminable at the option of congress. The contracting company shall have the right to construct lines on all post routes and shall provide lines of telegraph to every postal telegraph office on the request of the postmaster general, and may, at its or their own expense, establish telegraph offices in addition to those established by the postmaster general.

TO ADVERTISE FOR SEALED PROPOSALS.

The postmaster general is authorized to advertise for sealed proposals [illegible] to sell existing telegraph [illegible] the government or to construct new telegraph lines for the government [illegible] northeastern, northwestern, southwestern and southern [illegible] of the United States with the city of Washington, [illegible] investigation any of [illegible] proposals either to sell existing lines [illegible] to construct new lines for the government are [illegible] the postmaster general will report his [illegible] at the next session [illegible] not later than [illegible] November 25, 1884, then a board consisting of the secretary of state, the secretary of war and the postmaster general shall locate and arrange four of said trunk lines of postal telegraph to [illegible] and keep in repair under the direction of the secretary of war through [illegible] The secretary of war is also authorized to purchase [illegible]

In addition to the the secretary of war is further directed to [illegible] and take and use all such material appliances [illegible] telegraph lines owned by persons or corporations whether patented or [illegible] shall be found necessary for the convenient and successful establishment and [illegible]

Two million dollars is appropriated for the purpose of the act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1885. The lines are to be under the direction of the postmaster general, and a part of the post office department.

The bill has been submitted to the full committee and will be taken up for consideration in a few days.

THE STAR ROUTE TRIALS.

Bliss Tells How Tilden Interested Himself in the Frauds.

WASHINGTON, March 21. — The Springer committee having charge of the investigation of expenditures by the department of justice resumed the taking of testimony to-day. Reviewing the history of the first star route trial, Bliss said he learned that ex-Senator Spencer of Alabama could give testimony of an important nature of the paying of money by Dorsey and Brady. When Spencer came to Washington near the close of the second trial and made statements denying that he knew anything about the alleged payments to Brady, Bliss stated that he refused to see or talk with Spencer for the reason that "I would have to tell him I did not believe him." Bliss related his efforts to get Spencer to testify and the search for him. "I can say," continued Bliss, "that Spencer's interest in the star route cases passed from the government side to the other side early in December 1881."

TILDEN BECOMES INTERESTED.

Witness expressed a lack of confidence in Cook and Gibson and said: "At one time or other Tilden became so far interested that he furnished money to be quietly used in the investigation. At a certain stage of the matter Tilden sent C. F. McLain to Washington. McLain is a gentleman and a lawyer. If these things can be confined. He came to Washington and went back and reported that things were properly managed. He was the law partner of H. E. Knox. Knox was a friend of James A. Garfield. Tilden obtained the information and if he had been elected he would have made the campaign on the star route frauds as he did on New York on the canal frauds. He had not wanted to have the [illegible] electoral [illegible] but Tilden did not run, and did not give his information to Hancock. In the February after the election Knox communicated the star route frauds to Garfield. I think that was why Dorsey's influence with [illegible]

THE DORSEY DINNER.

Bliss continued: "I attended the famous Dorsey dinner. He wanted a man in the cabinet, and I wanted the man in the same position."

"What was the gentleman's name?" asked Springer.

"I'll tell you. It was Charles J. Folger. He wanted him for secretary of the treasury, but he was not put in Garfield's cabinet. He was offered the attorney generalship and declined."

"I was said that during the trial of the star route case it was discovered that the defendants were in possession of information supposed to belong exclusively to government counsel. Bliss said it was a great relief to him when Cook was discharged from the government service. It was such a relief to him that he went and broke two bottles of champagne." Adjourned until Monday.

THE MISSISSIPPI OUTRAGES.

Congressman Barksdale Before the Senate Sub-Committee.

WASHINGTON, March 21. — Major E. Barksdale, member of congress from Mississippi, who, according to testimony taken by the Copiah county sub-committee of the senate made a speech at Hazelhurst advising the democrats to carry Copiah county by the shotgun if necessary and hang Bingham, the republican candidate was before the senate sub-committee this morning and made a statement under oath in his own vindication. He denied the charge in toto and said the history of Copiah county had always been characterized with a love of law and order and in the events of the last election there was nothing inconsistent with that record. He made two speeches in Hazelhurst on the day before the election, one in the afternoon to a procession of colored people on horseback and the other in the evening to the local democratic club. He could not remember whether the mounted afternoon procession was armed with shotguns. His attention was called to statements of witnesses about his speeches and he pronounced all assertions that he had encouraged violence false.

AN INQUIRY BY HOAR.

Senator Hoar asked if the witnesses alluded to the peaceable and law-abiding conduct of Copiah county he included the killing of Matthews?

"I have nothing to say in reference to that. That was a personal difficulty between those two parties. It is before the courts there, and I express no opinion."

"You have said the people of Copiah county stand high in general character and you have an unmixed [illegible] that there was nothing in their conduct to reflect [illegible] inconsistent with their past history. Now I wish to ask whether it is not true that it is matter of record where about to the houses of colored men whipping and shooting them at times, and [illegible] that they did it to compel them to vote the democratic ticket or compel the negroes to flee to the woods in large numbers and that Matthews was shot because of his influence as a republican leader, whether that would change your mind as to the character of the people?"

"Well now the object of your inquiry has been accomplished by the statement made by yourself in giving testimony in a matter which was pronounced [illegible] I think that after the trial of Wheeler for the killing of Matthews facts brought to light there will answer your question."

Alarming Adulteration of Food

ALBANY, N. Y., March 21. — The senate committee on public health which has been investigating the adulteration of food reported to-day. They have discovered wholesale and alarming adulterations dangerous to consumers and depreciating property in the rural districts. Imitation has been so disguised that it is often only discoverable by chemical analysis. Out of thirty samples of butter purchased by the committee in New York there were only [illegible] genuine. Bogus butter sells for 20 to [illegible] cents to laboring men; better grades from 30 to 46 cents. The cost of manufacturing is from 12 to 15 cents. Average 14. Many dairy farms have been driven out of business. The amount sold in the state is estimated at $900,000 to $1,000,000 yearly. The committee estimate that 40,000,000 pounds of the imitation product is sold annually in the state, and that the legislature [illegible] up our [illegible] than natural butter.

Gordon was authorized to appoint a commission of ex-Confederates to co-operate with commissions of the grand army of the republic in aid of the soldiers home at Richmond, Virginia.

Made an Assignment.

COLUMBUS, O., March 21. — The Gill Car Manufacturing Company made an assignment last evening; assets estimated at about $300,000, liabilities $360,000. The company became involved by having a large quantity of malleable iron on hand at the time of the panic in 1873. The company never recovered from the effects.

The Coffee Exchange Excited

NEW YORK, March 21. — The coffee exchange is excited over the refusal to readmit the Brazilian firm of Wolf & Selequenburg, who suspended last week. Only coffee which opened at 9.50 cents yesterday [illegible] opened at 9.40 this morning. The decline was partly due to a break in Havre of 1½ francs this morning.

Expressmen Raided.

Northern Pacific first advanced to 1[illegible] and receded to [illegible] Stocks opened lower on a reduction of freight rates on grain [illegible] by Commissioner Fink. The decline [illegible] ranged from ¼ to [illegible] per cent, trunk line shares leading the downward movement. After 11 o'clock there [illegible] for Oregon and Transcontinental and Northern Pacific [illegible] Oregon and Transcontinental advanced [illegible] Northern Pacific [illegible] preferred 1½. Improvement was generally fractional and the market was quiet except for Northern Pacific and Oregon and Transcontinental shares.

In the afternoon it was reported from Boston that the Union Pacific and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy had met and adjourned without action [illegible] at first was considered unfavorable and the market fell ¼ to ½ per cent. Pacific Mail and Union Pacific were the weakest shares. Near the close it was learned that the adjournment of the railway conference at Boston was due to the absence of President Potter of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and that another meeting had been called for next week. This created a steadier feeling and the market closed firm, with a fractional rally in prices.

Compared with last night's closing prices are down ¼ to 1¾ per cent, except Kansas and Texas, Wabash and Oregon and Transcontinental, which are [illegible] per cent higher. Northern Pacific unchanged. Oregon Short Line rose 1¼.

The president of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company says his company has negotiated for $1,000,000, which will give them money to proceed at once to finish the line to Huntington [illegible] with the Oregon Short Line railway and that they will push it as rapidly as possible.

TARIFF TALK.

Further Concessions to be Made by the Friends of the Morrison Measure.

WASHINGTON, March 21. — Special. — Representative [illegible] has always [illegible] the views of the democratic members on the tariff and [illegible] in its present shape [illegible] but they are confident that it can be [illegible] to secure the approval of the majority and these changes will be made. They involve the sacrifice of the free list, which now contains only [illegible] lumber and also concessions to the [illegible] were. Other changes may be agreed to. By these changes of the party lash it is expected that the majority can be whipped into line in support of the bill, and the [illegible] addition of the free list and the giving of a [illegible] it is thought that enough will be brought to the support of the bill at least twenty or [illegible] votes [illegible] to pass the measure in its present shape. This compromise has been [illegible] after a great deal of unrest [illegible] will be sufficient to carry the bill, thus having a clear majority. The republicans are [illegible] and getting the party into place [illegible] it is believed to end [illegible]

RANDALL AND HIS FOLLOWERS.

[illegible] Mr Randall and his immediate friends [illegible] that they will defeat the [illegible] at fault [illegible] They say that [illegible] with the Morrison bill [illegible] the democratic [illegible] and insure his certain election [illegible]

Both sides are confident of victory, and it will be some days before an accurate prediction of the result can be made.

A call for a democratic caucus next Thursday night will be posted in the house to-morrow. Mr. Randall, Mr. Converse and Mr. Eaton have agreed upon the form of resolution to be presented to the caucus. This resolution will recite in preamble that the admitted necessity for revision of the tariff now does not exist as in 1883 [illegible] that the passage of the tariff of March 3, 1883, and its workings, and that it would be futile to attempt legislation in the face of a hostile senate and president.

THE SPIRIT OF THE OHIO PLANK.

The resolution [illegible] the sense of the majority of the house that there should be a tariff for revenue sufficient to provide for the [illegible] of the government economically administered [illegible] with unfettering monopolies. The reverse reformers [illegible] to [illegible] the resolution [illegible] the point where they declare for [illegible] and they would not go a [illegible] the protectionists insist that the [illegible] of the tariff [illegible] the Ohio platform should be adopted by the house as a plank expressive of the views of the democrats of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

Henry Watterson's friends say the antagonism has been [illegible] him and Speaker Carlisle by quoting the latter as [illegible] pleased with the ultimatum of the Kentucky editor, which reads out of the party opponents of the Morrison bill. Mr. Watterson is authority for the statement that before he sent such a pronouncement it was read and approved by the speaker and also by nine of the leading revenue reformers in the house.

FREE TRADE MEETING AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 21. — It was announced that several prominent public men, including Speaker Carlisle and Senator Thomas F. Bayard, will speak upon the tariff issue [illegible] hall to-night. At a meeting of the Tammany general committee, [illegible] Nichols presided and announced with regret that neither of the gentlemen above mentioned was able to be present. Letters were also received from Congressman S. S. Cox and Herbert and August Belmont, Senator Bayard in a letter of regret said: The subject of tariff reform is one of present and undeniable importance. The intolerable abuse which has been engendered by the existing [illegible] tax laws passed in the exciting times of war and to supply temporary exigencies must be broken [illegible] and if the democratic army has any [illegible] duty it is to take an honest, straightforward unmistakable step in the direction of [illegible] and simplifying the present unequal [illegible] Resolutions [illegible] favoring reduction of the tariff and approving Mr. Morrison's bill were [illegible] adopted [illegible] president [illegible] declared adjourned and [illegible] the meeting.

THE PRESIDENCY.

The [illegible] Judge Field. Tilden Should Be the Nominee.

[illegible] Judge Field says [illegible] was the [illegible] nomination [illegible] Tilden was in [illegible] if he is able and willing to be candidate he will [illegible] be nominated [illegible] a grateful party can now make is to offer him the honor of the nomination by acclamation."

J. B. MONTGOMERY INTERVIEWED.

NEW YORK, March 21. — [Special.] — In an interview with your correspondent to-day, J. B. Montgomery of Portland, Oregon, said: "Although Blaine refuses to say he is a candidate, it is hard [illegible] the country would not nominate him. He will carry Pennsylvania almost unanimously. Nearly half the counties are already instructed for Blaine, and none against him so far. In Philadelphia Bingham and McManus [illegible] Blaine men have carried a majority of the districts. It is believed he will have fifty of the sixty counties, and that the six delegates at large will be instructed for the plumed knight by a majority of five to one. Men here who are good politicians believe that forty out of the seventy votes from New York and a large majority of those from Ohio will be for the Maine statesman. Conkling has steadily declared that he will take the stump for Blaine if nominated, and although General Grant says he prefers Logan he speaks in the highest terms of Blaine."

Vice President Oakes Explains the New Tariff — The Transcontinental.

NEW YORK, March 21. — [Special.] — Tribune's St. Paul special: At a conference between the committees of the St. Paul and Minneapolis chambers of commerce and Vice President Oakes and General Freight Agent Hannaford of the Northern Pacific yesterday some of the apprehensions of the former of the meeting at which the tariff on apples [illegible] had been adjusted were dispelled on one hand and the workings of the new tariff were explained on the other. Mr. Oakes showed that in making up the tariff graduating rates had been made from St. Paul to Portland on one hand and rates upon the same basis of compensation made from Portland to St. Paul and Minneapolis on the other. It would be suicidal, Oakes said, to ruin the Pacific coast trade, which was governed by conditions of water transportation, etc., in the interest of cities at this end of the line. In adjusting the tariff, St. Paul and Minneapolis had been accorded practically all the territory from the Idaho line eastward and Portland all from that point westward. Walla Walla, Colfax, Waitsburg, Farmington and some other points which were named were in the Oregon Railway and Navigation company's line, and not within their jurisdiction.

SULLIVAN AND THOMPSON.

Both Sides Apparently Want a Fight — Sullivan Publishes a Card

CLEVELAND, March 21. — Duncan C. Ross to-day sent to Richard K. Fox, of New York, articles of agreement for the purpose of a [illegible] Sullivan and Mervine Thompson to fight under the prize ring rules. Accompanying this was $2500 guaranteeing Thompson's signature.

SULLIVAN PUBLISHES A CARD.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21. — John L. Sullivan telegraphs the following from Tucson, Arizona, to the Associated Press: "I read in the Associated Press dispatches that Sheedy had matched me for $5000 a side to fight Thompson and had put up a forfeit of $500. Smith and myself immediately telegraphed Sheedy saying [illegible] that I could fight and not to let [illegible] to get away with any bluff. I have never received any answer from Sheedy. This is all I know of the matter. If [illegible] does not [illegible] let Mr Thompson put up $2500 with the New York Clipper. I will refer it immediately. It is my desire to make a match not taking away [illegible] with him [illegible] and will fight six weeks or two months from to-day and toss for choice of ground."

THOMPSON'S BACKER INTERVIEWED.

CLEVELAND, March 21. — Sullivan's dispatch to the [illegible] from Tucson, Arizona was shown Ross, Thompson's backer. Ross said: "Just in right. We will fight. What Mr. Sullivan says is agreeable except that we want three months to prepare Thompson for the fight. Otherwise it is all satisfactory. The Clipper will not hold the stakes. I sent $2500 to day to Richard K. Fox, with articles of agreement drawn to suit Sullivan's wish." A copy was exhibited reading as follows: "Articles of agreement entered into by Duncan C. Ross in behalf of Mervine Thompson of Cleveland and John L. Sullivan of Boston. We, the said Thompson and Sullivan, hereby agree to fight a fair stand up fight according to the new rules of the prize ring for $5000 a side and the championship of the world, said contest to be with or without gloves at the option of said Sullivan. It is also agreed that the battle ground shall be [illegible] and the party winning to give the [illegible] the state, either Louisiana, Texas or Kansas. In accordance with the wishes of said J. L. Sullivan only six persons on each side are to be allowed [illegible] contest which shall be three months from the signing of the articles. The referee is to be mutually agreed on. In the event of a referee not being appointed, Richard K. Fox shall name the time and place for the fighting and appoint a referee, on the second deposit of $2500."

THE WHISKY BILL.

The Vote for Consideration no Evidence of Its Strength — The Distillers' Schemes.

WASHINGTON, March 21. — Special. — The whisky bill which was taken up yesterday by a small majority [illegible] occupied the greater part of the time of the house to-day. No object [illegible] was made to its consideration [illegible] when Blackburn moved to go into committee [illegible] that he had no objection, as the sooner the measure was out of the way the better it would be for the public. Several speeches were made during the afternoon, Blount and Reese of Georgia and Herbert of Alabama speaking against the bill and Wilkins, Broadhead and Belford in its favor. Cox of New York made a [illegible] speech with not the slightest allusion to the subject under consideration, a circumstance which irritated the friends of the bill and alarmed them lest a general [illegible] debate should be [illegible] At the close of the debate the bill went over until Saturday to-morrow being private bill day.

WEAKER THAN IT APPEARS.

The vote yesterday by which the bill was taken up for consideration gives little indication of the bill's strength. One member said to-day that he knew of personal knowledge seventeen men who voted to consider the bill, who are opposed to its passage. The [illegible] the bill disposed of, that it may not stand in the way of the [illegible] and many of them voted to take it up for the [illegible] reason. Lathrop [illegible] majority against it ranges from ten to thirty [illegible] Extraordinary efforts are being made by advocates of the bill to pass it.

WHITE'S ATTACK ON WATTERSON.

The fact that John D. White turned Henry Watterson yesterday [illegible] a privilege as an ex-member to lobby for the whisky bill on the floor of the house is correctly reported [illegible] It is alleged that hasty [illegible] for the lobby were [illegible] and that a small room in the basement of the house was used as headquarters of the [illegible]

The game of the distillers is said to be, if the extension bill passes [illegible] two years extension [illegible] reduction of the tax on whisky in bond from 90 cents to 50 cents per gallon. If such a scheme could be carried out it would put in the pockets of the distillers about $40,000,000.

THE CATTLE PLAGUE.

The Disease Pronounced not the Foot and Mouth Ailment — Notes.

WASHINGTON, March 21. — Commissioner Loring has received a telegram from Professor Salmon, veterinarian of the department of agriculture, stating that after a thorough investigation of the disease at Neosho Falls, Kansas, he has concluded it is not the genuine foot and mouth disease, but is due to local conditions and that there is no danger of its spread. [illegible] The commissioner accepts this conclusion as final.

THE BILL PASSED.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 21. — The senate continued consideration of the domestic animal bill all the afternoon, and at a late hour passed it. It empowers the governor to appoint a live stock sanitary committee, consisting of three men and he shall also have the power to remove any or all of them and fill the vacancy by new appointment. Their terms of office are placed at one, two and three years.

Stockmen around Ainsworth report stock of all kinds doing very well.

Work on the railroad bridge at Ainsworth is progressing well. Workmen are now putting the iron on the draw.

An effort is being made to raise by subscription $1000 in Vancouver and vicinity to try for an artesian well near that city.

Henry Hedburg, one of Vancouver's army veterans, will be 91 years old in a few days. He was nearly 50 years old when he went as a soldier in the Mexican war. He is still hale and hearty.

During the week ending March 8 the Vancouver postoffice did its largest week's work yet. There was issued 1514 [illegible] and [illegible] postal notes and $1 10 in orders and notes paid — $2524 business for the week.

The Vancouver public school will be discontinued for the present school year on Friday, the 28th inst., for want of funds. Commenting on this fact the Independent says: There is still a small amount in the hands of the treasurer, which, with the apportionment to be made in July, would enable us to continue three months longer. But this would not only reduce, just to that extent, the fund for the next school year, but would leave the board without any money to meet the expenses of the school from September to the time of disbursement of the school tax in the following January. This course has been pursued in some former years and in this manner we have got behind.

Tuesday George Harris, who resides near Glencoe, was arrested on complaint of Mr. Northrup for alleged rape on his 13 year old daughter, and brought before Justice Barrett, who placed him under $1,000 bonds to await the action of the grand jury.

At Harrisburg considerable excitement was caused the first of this week by the serious poisoning of Mrs. Mary A. Boggs, Dale McDonald, Mrs. Boggs' grandson, and Mr. Martin Powers, a boarder, on last Sunday. Several others were slightly affected. On tracing up the matter it was found that the trouble came from the flour, as some were affected from eating bread and others from eating biscuit and pie made from the same flour. Drs. McDonald and Davis were called and by prompt work soon had all of the affected ones relieved and out of danger. The symptoms of the poison were those of strychnine. An analysis of the bread will be made. Mrs. Boggs subsequently emptied the yeast made from the flour to the hogs fed and it killed two and [illegible] the three [illegible] which she was feeding.

[illegible] Boggs, who is stopping with Mr. Ben Thompson near Harrisburg, last Wednesday undertook to lead a bronco loading the gun by driving the cartridge in with a knife. The result was the ram rod and a seriously wounded boy. Parts of the cartridge hit him about the eye and plowed a furrow up and across his forehead, leaving an ugly wound and some splinters in his face that were subsequently removed by Dr. McDonald.

Death of an Aged Indian Chief — Tunnel No. 3 on the Oregon Pacific Completed — News Items from the North

ALBANY, Or., March 21. — [Special.] — The court room was crowded to overflowing to-day with spectators who had assembled to hear sentence pronounced upon Charles B. Finlayson, the convicted murderer, but all were disappointed as upon motion of defendant's counsel the verdict was set aside by Judge Boise and a new trial granted. The reasons for the new trial in substance that an affidavit of J. J. [illegible] stating that [illegible] Hale, one of the jurors, also that the [illegible] of November last and at sundry times since that date and to J. J. GREED OF LAND SPECULATORS.

GASTON, March 21, 1884.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your articles on the tax systems you have struck the root of the evil. That there is no honesty about the present system of assessment is self evident, nor can there be about any system of attempting to tax credits. For the object of taxing credits and exempting indebtedness is that land speculators may escape from paying taxes on the lands they have bought for speculation. It is not the capitalists who pay for their folly and greed, but their neighbors who are out of debt. Here for a specimen is a copy of the assessment of one of Washington county's speculators for 1883: 2378 acres of land valued at $19,410; mortgages on the same taxed $23,000. Let this class bear in mind that the multitude in all countries are patient only to a certain point. Two methods of reform are justifiable: First agitation and an appeal to the legislature and second revolution.

If we have to reform the present evils by the latter course let the land speculators pray to be delivered from the wrath to come, for they have now made a reality what was with Goldsmith in his poem a conjecture:

Ill fares the land to hastening ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates and men decay.

A GOOD COMPARISON.
The Rev. William Roulatt, a well-known Methodist clergyman, residing at Naples, draws the following amusing, but apt comparison between Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a ferret.
"A ferret when placed at the entrance of a rat hole, enters the aperture, travels along the passage, seizes upon the rat, exterminates his existence and draws the animal's defunct carcass to the light. And in like manner have I found Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge to operate upon worms, those dreadful and dangerous tormentors of children. This remedy, like the ferret, enters the aperture of the mouth, travels down the gullet, hunts round the stomach and lays hold of the reptiles, worms, shakes the life out of the reptiles, sweeps clean their den, and carries their carcasses clear out of the system. This, at least, has been the effect of the Vermifuge upon my children."

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 22 1884.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY AND THE N. P. GRANT.

Seattle papers assert that the memorial addressed to congress by the chamber of commerce of that city in behalf of Northern Pacific land grant, was adopted "under pressure" and through "misapprehension of the facts;" and they are calling loudly for a mass meeting to voice the sentiments of the people for immediate withdrawal of the grant upon the Cascade mountain division. A memorial to congress, asking that body to declare the grant forfeited, is being circulated at Seattle, and the mass meeting is to be held at an early day to "demand protection of the territory and relief from the overshadowing injustice of the unearned land grant." The Chronicle says:

> The people of Puget sound, as a whole, understand fully the self-chosen attitude of the Northern Pacific railroad company toward the interests of the public. Its continual attempts to steal the land of the territory, its well-known weakness for booming land-company town-sites, and its general willingness to defraud the people and enrich itself at the expense of the public, are clearly established.

All the papers of Seattle discuss the subject at length and with great warmth. The Post Intelligencer says:

> Is it not the policy of this company to fix its prices just as high as possible, as well for transportation service as for purchase of its lands? The company claims to hold under a title which, to say the least, is of questionable validity, 837,600 acres of land in the state of Oregon, and 2,088,000 acres in Washington territory, obtained as a gift from the government for building a railroad from Portland to Tacoma. That land is valued at an average price of about $10 per acre, or in round numbers, $32,000,000, nearly $220,000 per mile for the whole line. Isn't it about time to reduce rates on this railroad, at least in proportion as the price of land is advanced? Isn't it about time that some of the promised benefits to accrue to the people from the building of this richly endowed public highway became visible?

The above is an excessive estimate of the value of the land, but the Seattle papers, smarting under the attempted policy of the company which ignores their town and confers special favors upon Tacoma, are making out as strong a statement as possible. The Herald says:

> We are glad to see that our morning contemporaries, both emphatically endorse our suggestion that a mass meeting be held as soon as practicable, for the purpose of taking immediate and decided action in regard to the Northern Pacific land grant in connection with the Cascade division. We are satisfied that, in consequence of what the directors have refrained from saying, rather than what they have said, on the prospective policy of the company with reference to that portion of the road, the general feeling of the people of this territory, with the solitary exception of the citizens of Tacoma, is decidedly in favor of forfeiture as a preferable alternative to giving up so much of the public lands for the sake of serving the interests and increasing the ill gotten gains of the land-jobbers.

At Walla Walla there is a movement similar to that at Seattle. Some weeks ago a meeting held at Walla Walla adopted resolutions in favor of still allowing the company to hold the land grant of the Cascade division, but only under restrictions and qualifications. Now come the newspapers of Walla Walla saying that this action does not satisfy the people, because it does not represent their wishes. It may be remembered that THE OREGONIAN said at the time that the boards of trade of our cities, that of Portland included, which had adopted resolutions in favor of confirming the unearned land grant to the company, were not representing the people on the subject; and it knew this because its large communication and wide contact with the people enable it to feel, without much liability to mistake, the currents of public opinion. Now comes the Walla Walla Journal saying:

> The meeting passed resolutions demanding the forfeiture of that part of the grant between Wallula and Portland, and recommending bestowal of the Cascade part under condition of the immediate building of the road to the Sound and restriction of the price of the lands to $2 50 an acre. Before the meeting was done it developed a spirit which showed that, had resolutions been presented declaring unequivocally for the forfeiture of all that part of the grant unearned according to law by July 4, 1879, they would have been passed by almost unanimous vote. And were such a meeting held to-day, it is safe to say that no resolution conceding any right of the railroad company to lands in eastern Washington territory would stand the slightest chance of adoption.

The Journal concludes with a call for another meeting. The subject is one which mainly concerns the people of Washington territory, though we of Oregon have a special interest in it in so far as it relates to the land grant from Wallula to Portland, which ought to be vacated at once. There is no probability that the road between these two points will ever be built; there is no need of it, and the company ought at once to announce its purpose of relinquishing this part of the grant. Since there can be no object whatever in holding on to the grant between Portland and Wallula, the board of directors of the company should pass a resolution withdrawing their claim to it. This would be an open and candid way of dealing with those interested in the lands covered by this part of the grant. As to the Cascade division it may be remarked that the motive of the company in desiring to hold the lands thereon is intelligible, but at the same time it may be seriously questioned whether the addition of those lands to the vast largesses already bestowed would do either the company or the country any real good. They would be simply a new stake thrown into the mighty vortex of speculation and jobbery in Wall street, to add to the ever-grown wealth of sharping operators who have wrecked the road already through stock jobbing and other methods, and converted the resources which the country gave it into spoil for augmentation of their own colossal fortunes. We are told of one banking house in New York whose members have made, since the opening of the road, no less than ten millions of dollars out of these operations in Northern Pacific and stocks and bonds of companies associated with it; and of course they and others, eager for further opportunities to "assist the development of the far northwest," would like a grant of all the lands which the northwest contains.

It is apparently as easy for the superintendent of the city schools to show that the high school costs nothing as it was for for Mr. Watkinds, when superintendent of the penitentiary, to prove that that institution was "self-sustaining." By one more effort Mr. Crawford can easily show that the school pays a profit to the city. It is the Watkinds system of accounting, which may easily be accommodated to any hobby. Yet for those inexpensive things money is invariably voted by tens of thousands every year. No account is taken by the superintendent's bookkeeping of the high school building, which, if completed according to the plans in hand, will cost, with the ground it stands on, not less than $150,000, and may cost $200,000. Nor is any note made of the fact that the primary and grammar school systems, operated as they are with a view to the high school, are thereby rendered far more costly than they would otherwise be. Again, it is remarked by the board that a large sum comes from the state and county. But they forget that this contribution is chiefly the product of a direct four mill tax upon our people, over and above the seven mill tax which the directors want them to pay. It is in order to remark, that notwithstanding these successful efforts at bookkeeping, the drafts on the public for heavy sums of money never stop, but on the contrary steadily increase.

For the existence of the city high school there is no just warrant in law, because this school is the product of special legislation, which any examination before a competent court would pretty certainly find unconstitutional. The legislature is expressly inhibited by the constitution from enacting laws of this special character. There neither is nor can be under the law any high school in the state except in Portland; the law was made specially for Portland, and any taxpayer who wishes to do so may overthrow it.

Prof. Cromwell, the art connoisseur, was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of rheumatism.

OFFICIAL PURITY.

In the recent discussion of the postoffice appropriation bill sentiments were uttered by members of the house which deserve the severest reprobation. It was argued by democrats as well as republicans that the honesty of postmasters depends upon the size of their salaries. Leopold Morse of Boston said that he had just refused to sign the bonds of the postmaster of that city because he knew the responsibility involved, and in answer to the question of Mr. Dunn of Arkansas, said he thought that the Hon. E. S. Tobey, a man who has been prominent for years in business and religious circles, would be more honest if he had more salary. This astounding statement called from Mr. Holman the remark "that Morse's arguing in favor of high salaries was natural to a man who hung so lightly on the democratic party, but that his opinion that a federal official would be more honest for having a larger salary was unaccountable to him."

Mr. Money, another democrat, introduced the argument which so many newspapers have recently used in favor of high salaries for judges and other state and federal officers that the government should compete with the railroad corporations in their corrupting tendencies. Mr. Holman replied that the days of this republic are numbered if the democrats propose to rival and imitate the republicans in their extravagant views concerning the administration of public affairs. If there is any one quality necessary to preserve the very foundations on which our free institutions rest, it is honesty in the government, and as Mr. Holman said, we cannot have integrity unless we have economy. Honesty and economy are convertible terms. But Mr. Holman protested in vain, and the republicans with their democratic allies defeated the proposition to reduce the salaries of postmasters in the principal cities, with the exception of New York, to $4000 a year. During the whole war period, with its inflated currency, these salaries stood at $4000, with as high a responsibility attached to them for all practical purposes as now. If it is not true, as Mr. Holman said, that want of integrity has begun to appear as salaries have increased, the statement of Mr. Reagan is certainly true that "the tendency of this system is demoralizing, and that in proportion as salaries are high those who receive them are able to live without labor and employ others to do their work. Under this government there is generally one head man who has a clerk who gives directions to a man under him who does the work. Thus it takes three officers generally to do the work of one, and the one who does nothing must have an extraordinary salary for doing nothing."

The system is demoralizing for this reason. When people see that a postmaster in a city or large town is able to absent himself for days and weeks from his office, to spend half of the winter in Washington, to attend all the political conventions, or to devote just as much time to his private business as if he had no other, and that this large salary continues just the same, whether he spends his time in the service of the government or in attending to his own affairs, or in "sloshing around" in politics, and also see that while doing all this he is treated as a man of consequence as a representative of the government, they cannot help being affected badly by the spectacle. The example of enormously overpaid officials in railroad and other corporations has a similar demoralizing influence upon their subordinates and upon the public generally. A large proportion of the cases of defalcation and theft among officers and clerks are directly traceable to this evil influence. We have no doubt that the postoffices of the cities and large towns would be more honestly and enterprisingly administered if the salaries were not so large, and the allowances for clerk hire were strictly limited to the needs of the service, so that postmasters would be obliged to confine themselves so close to their official duties that they would have no time for political intrigues or for the management of outside enterprises. In small offices where no clerk hire is allowed it is necessary that the postmaster should be at liberty to engage in other business which does not interfere with the conduct of the office. But in all the larger offices the salary and allowances should be no larger than necessary to procure the proper discharge of the business. This we believe would be a true reform in the civil service. This service should be divorced not only from politics, but it should present no temptations to any man to enter it who is unwilling to work for honest wages, and be contented to receive only what is honestly earned. That a man can make more in other business, is no reason why the government should pay larger salaries. Let all such men, whether they are judges or postmasters, or members of congress, or even United States senators, go into that other business, and there would still be left a "remnant" of honest and aspiring young men who have not bowed the knee to Baal, to take their places and fill them even better than they are now filled by incumbents who have become corrupted by the love of money, which is the root of all evil. The railroads cannot employ all the able men of this country on imperial salaries without taxing the people more than the people will bear. There is a limit to the ability of all large business concerns to pay colossal salaries. The New York Evening Post is a newspaper which favors civil service reform, but still it endorses the view expressed by members of congress, that official purity is a mere matter of dollars and cents. Referring to the case of Judge Locke of the United States district court in Florida, who has found it necessary to eke out his scanty income of $3500 a year by pawn-broking and usury, by illicit dealing in tobacco, and even by keeping a wrecking schooner at work along the Florida coast, the Post says that this scandal is a legitimate consequence of the treatment of its judges by our government; that Judge Locke may be a very bad man, but how are we ever to get good federal judges with such a system of small salaries?

If the theory of the Post and of members of congress is correct, we might despair of honest government. But the theory is false. the result of that low tone of public morality which the government has done much to foster and create, a part of that bad legacy left over from the war and the speculative era which the inflation of the currency produced. Unless we are willing to accept the consequences of this view of honesty as a purchasable commodity, it is time it was dropped out of the discussions of congress and the press. If it is adopted as a permanent policy, salaries will continue to grow, and the office-holding class will have their leisure and emoluments increased, while those whose labor pays these extravagant salaries are depressed in poverty. We shall have as a result of it an aristocratic class, such as those who framed our constitution made every provision in their power to prevent. Benjamin Franklin foresaw just what has occurred in congress and elsewhere, the excuses which are constantly being brought up for an increase of the salaries of the officers of the government. He was a great philosopher as well as statesman, and anticipating the danger which would arise from the payment of high salaries he protested in the convention which framed the constitution against making our posts of honor places of profit. He said:

> Besides these evils, sir, though we may set out in the beginning with moderate salaries, we shall find that such will not be of long continuance. Reasons will never be wanting for proposed augmentations. * * * Hence, as all history informs us, there has been in every state and kingdom a constant kind of warfare between the governing and governed, the one striving to obtain more for its support and the other to pay less. * * * Generally, indeed, the ruling power carries its point the revenues of princes constantly increasing; and we see that they are never satisfied, but always in want of more. The more the people are discontented with the oppression of taxes the greater need the prince has of money to distribute among his partisans and pay the troops that are to suppress all resistance and enable him to plunder at pleasure. There is scarce a king in a hundred who would not if he could follow the example of Pharaoh—get first all the people's money, then all their lands, and then make them and their children servants forever. It will be said that we do not propose to establish kings. I know it, but there is a natural inclination in mankind to kingly government. It sometimes relieves them from aristocratic domination. They had rather have one tyrant than 500. It gives more of the equality among citizens, and that they like. I am apprehensive therefore, perhaps too apprehensive, that the government of these states may in future times end in a monarchy. But this catastrophe I think may be long delayed, if in our proposed system we do not sow the seeds of contention, faction and tumult by making our posts of honor places of profit. If we do, I fear that, though we do employ at first a number, and not a single person, the number will in time be set aside; it will only nourish the foetus of a king, as the honorable gentleman from Virginia very aptly expressed it, and a king will the sooner be set over us.

A year or two since it was proposed in the Wyoming legislature to repeal the law under which women vote. A leading lawyer made a speech in which he said if he had been in the legislature he should have voted against the law, and then added: "But the question of repeal was a different question. The one was the conferring of a privilege not before enjoyed, the other taking away what we have by law acknowledged to be a right. It is one thing to enfranchise—quite another to disfranchise. We can enfranchise whom we will, and when we please, always within the constitution. But when you have enfranchised a person I fail to find any constitutional power to disfranchise that person for any other reason than crime." This is the view which seems commonly to prevail. But it is not correct. Suffrage must not be denied or abridged "on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude." It may however, be denied for any other cause, and if woman suffrage should be adopted in this country an effort would doubtless be made to limit the right of both sexes to vote by making it depend upon certain qualifications not now insisted upon in all the states.

Senator Van Wyck of Nebraska has introduced a very healthy influence into the stagnant atmosphere of the upper chamber of congress. He is in sympathy with the people, and has tried to represent them rather than the railroads and other combinations of capital, which are so dear to the senatorial heart. Having seen his name mentioned in a home paper as a possible delegate to the republican national convention, he refuses in advance to serve, and declares his belief that the delegation to Chicago should be composed of new men, outside of the congressional delegation, who, "fresh from the people, without any of the prejudices which naturally gather around the somewhat cloudy atmosphere at the national capital, could better give expression to the desires of the republicans of the state."

The statement telegraphed yesterday that Mrs. Duniway in the event of the adoption of the suffrage amendment in Oregon, would be a candidate for governor of the state, is absurd. Mrs. Duniway's ambition is not office holding. She has larger and higher purposes.

Several papers of the Willamette valley first misstate and then attempt to reply to what THE OREGONIAN has said against the taxation of credits. It is tedious labor to deal with intentional misrepresentation, or to try to convince uncandid dullness; hence we pass them by.

It will be seen by announcement this morning that Dr. C. C. Strong will be a candidate for school director. Dr. Strong will publish a statement to-day or to-morrow defining his position.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Reported Cost of the High School—Address from the Directors to the Taxpayers of the District.

A special meeting of the school board was held yesterday afternoon. Present, Messrs. Versteeg, Wasserman and Dodd. Mr. Versteeg presiding.

The city superintendent in accordance with instructions and resolutions passed at the last meeting of the board, reported the cost of running the high school, history of graduates and other statistics. Upon motion the report was received and ordered spread upon the minutes.

The board showed the following address and report.

To the Taxpayers of School District No. 1: We herewith submit to your careful consideration the report of the city superintendent, giving the cost of the high school from this district, from which you will see that the whole cost, including rooms, amounts to $8600, half of which, however, is paid by the state and county, leaving a tax to the school district of $4300, or the sum of 33½ cents on every thousand dollars assessed for its maintenance. You will also see from said report, as near as can be ascertained, what the graduates of the high school are doing. The salaries of the thirteen teachers who received their education at the high school alone amounts to $8000 per annum.

The matter of the current cost of the high school is so low that it would be almost impossible for any tax payer to object to it, while the report for each and every graduate reflects credit on the school and upon the city of Portland. Without an exception these graduates are all busy in the walks of labor and trade, and their character is such as to commend them to the world at large.

OFFICE OF CITY SUPERINTENDENT,
March 20, 1884.

To the Board of Directors—Gentlemen: In compliance with your resolutions, passed on the 14th inst., I beg leave to submit the following report:

COST OF THE HIGH SCHOOL (PER ANNUM).

Salaries—Principal	$2000
Four assistants at $1200	4800
One assistant (German)	700	—$7500
Rooms—Six one-half cost of building, $34,000. $15,000 at 7 per cent		1050
Janitor—One half time at $900		450
Drawing teacher—Two-fifths time at $1200		480
Fuel—One-half cost for building		180
Stationery—3½ each (basis of last year)		60
Total		$9720

CONTRA.

Received for tuition	$667 60
Supervision of the Primary Department—A principal for that department would receive $1200, or $450 more than the highest salary now paid in that dep't	$450 00	—$1117 60
		$8602 40

Cost per dollar of assessable property in the district (present assessment $13,500,000) ... 64-100 of one mill.

Respectfully submitted,
T. H. CRAWFORD, City Supt.

MILITARY AND PERSONAL.

Vancouver Independent.

The quarantine of the garrison is raised, much to the delight of both the citizens and the soldiers.

O. P. Randall, who has been with Major Elderkin for the past seventeen years, leaves to-morrow for the east, and will be succeeded in the office by Mr. H. C. Morris. Many friends wish Mr. Randall all success and a prosperous future.

The board for the examination of non-commissioned officers for promotion to the grade of Second Lieutenant, has been appointed to meet on the 22d proximo. Col. Grover, Col. Merriam, Dr. Towne, Major D. C. Poole, pay department, and Capt. Downey are the members. There are four candidates for examination.

Captain Frank D. Baldwin, Fifth infantry, judge advocate of the department, has left for the east on a two months leave. During his absence Lieutenant O. F. Long will assume the important duties of the office. Captain Baldwin has recently submitted for examination the model of a gun carriage for field service capable of being packed and unpacked from a mule and placed in position for service in about one minute. It is by far the most complete and ingenious device ever invented, and will undoubtedly be a great boon to scouting parties when adopted by the government, as it certainly will be. Captain Baldwin is to be congratulated on his success. The board appointed to examine into its merits was composed of some of the most distinguished and experienced officers in the department, and were very much pleased with the results obtained.

SEEKING SEPARATION FROM A BESTIAL HUSBAND.—A suit for a divorce was begun yesterday in the state circuit court by Mrs. Emily Coker against her husband John D. Coker. Mrs. Coker alleges that for a long time past her husband has failed to contribute anything toward her support and that on the contrary she has been compelled to support him; that he has also treated her cruelly, bestially and inhumanly, and has frequently tried to force her to prostitute herself for his benefit. Coker was going away on the steamer last night; it was thought with the intention of deserting his wife. The summons in the above suit was served upon him, however, and now if Mrs. Coker can only get the divorce she prays for, Coker can go where he pleases and she will be very glad to be rid of him. There is little doubt that Coker is a degraded brute unfit to be called a man. It is only recently that he served a term in jail for bestial conduct.

NATHAN JR. AGAIN IN TROUBLE.—A. Roberts, the clothier, has brought suit against Nathan Cole, Jr., to recover $40 due on a personal note and also for $170 which was paid in advance for a[illegible] that was never given on account of the failure of ... First street ... The action was brought in Justice Bybee's court and a writ of attachment was issued upon Cole's household furniture, which is now therefore in the hands of the constable.

BRIEF MENTION.

Lee Ham for assault and battery on Yung Kee, was fined $10 by Justice Lushwiller yesterday.

The jury in the case of Leonard vs. Montgomery returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $40.

Chung Kim, charged with grand larceny, will have an examination before Justice Greene on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The grocery store of B. M. Bird and C. B. Hatch, corner Fourth and Yamhill streets, was closed yesterday by attachment.

In the matter of the estate of A. R. McDonald, deceased, County Judge Stearns yesterday appointed Lewis A. McDonald administrator.

Lizzie Miller was arrested last evening upon a warrant issued by Justice Greene charging her with larceny from the person of one Boyd.

John McDonald, charged with larceny by bailee, was last night committed to the county jail to await his trial before Justice Bullock in East Portland.

The latest excitement is the discovery of gold near Kicking Horse pass in the Rockies. The place is not as easy of access as Cœur d'Alene and those who get there will be lucky to get back.

There is an unusual amount of snow on the low peaks of the Cascades for this time of the year. This gives promise of plenty of water by and by, which will be a good thing for the mining sections.

F. M. Stark, who was charged by B. B. Ives with obtaining money under false pretenses, was yesterday released from custody, the case against him having been dismissed by Justice Greene upon motion of the prosecuting attorney.

Emerson's minstrels with the plain comedian Charley Reed arrive in Astoria this morning and give a performance there this evening. The sale of reserved seats already show that a full house will greet them on their opening here Monday night.

A lot of wheat for the City of Salem Company has been attached in Valentine & Smith's warehouse at Independence. It is not known here at whose suit the attachment was made but it is probably some farmer who has had a misunderstanding about the payment for his wheat.

Deputy Chief Watkinds was engaged in circulating the paper spoken of in another column among the force by visiting each one on his beat late last night. As an extra inducement to the weak kneed to sign it he stated that Captain Cornelius as well as Captain Furner, had signed. This was not true. Captain Cornelius had not signed the paper, nor would he sign it under any circumstances.

HUMANE SOCIETY ANNIVERSARY.

The Congregational church was well filled last evening on the occasion of the fourth anniversary meeting of the Oregon Humane Society. After an organ solo by R. W. Hoyt, and prayer by Rev. Anton ... Rev. F. R. Marvin read a very interesting paper, "Kindness to Animals," containing many beautiful extracts from Egyptian, Persian, Buddhist and Christian scriptures.

Pupils of the High school then sang "Come where the Fields are Beaming," after which Rev. T. L. Eliot, president, read an address setting forth the objects of the society, its intentions, work accomplished, etc. The annual report of the financial secretary, James Steele, was then submitted, showing that the amount received was $68; amount paid out $18 50, leaving a balance on hand of $49 50. The indebtedness of the society was $51. A collection was taken up which realized $32 57.

"Faithless Swallows" was then sang by pupils of the public schools.

The three essays for which prizes were awarded were then read by the writers, Miss Burrows, Miss Burkmeyer and Miss Jeffery.

A zither duet by E. d'Neuf and Miss C. Anderson was followed by a recitation of "Songster of the Air" by Miss Carrie Shannahan, and the exercises were concluded by the singing of "Swiftly we Fly" by pupils of public schools.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Immediately after the closing of the exercises an election of officers was held, resulting in the re-election of President T. L. Eliot, vice president, Hon. H. W. Corbett; recording secretary, Rev. H. K. Hines; corresponding secretary, W. I. Shannahan; treasurer, James Steel; executive committee, Wm. Wadhams, F. R. Marvin and I. A. Macrum. On motion Miss Sabin was also elected a member of the board.

Notice was given that a meeting of the executive committee would be held at Mr. I. K. Arnold's.

On motion adjourned.

Put him on the Confederate Retired List.

Chicago Tribune.

The United States owes Fitz John Porter nothing. The confederate states of America owe him a great deal. If he goes on any retired list he should be on the retired list of the army of the confederate states of America. The democratic party is responsible for the bill as it stands. We hope a republican president will not be responsible for giving it a place among the laws of the land.

Meusdorffer.

There is no man in the city who has more confidence in the future of Portland than Meusdorffer, and he has shown it most conclusively in his last purchases, which exceed by thousands of dollars any previous season. The display of hats in the market was never finer. He has laid in a much larger stock than usual. He felt confident that he would find ready sale for everything in the hat line and his expectations are being fully realized. Select your tile to-day at Meusdorffer's.

MR. JOHN WILSON AGAIN.

He Replies to Mr. D. P. Thompson and Presents Sundry Statements as to the Action of the School Directors.

PORTLAND, March 19, 1884.

To the Hon. D. P. Thompson—DEAR SIR: Your letter, addressed to me in THE OREGONIAN of the 17th inst., seems to call for a few words of reply. I admit the truth of all you claim in regard to what you said and did in the late school meeting. In all that I have done or written with reference to the acts of the meeting I ... [illegible] in the conviction that the criticisms of the press on school management and the actions of the majority in the public school meeting had a close connection, and that the said action was the outcome, in part at least, of that criticism. THE OREGONIAN illustrated the intellectual side of the question and the majority seemed ... to make haste to apply the ... [illegible] ... in crippling the commonwealth and injuring its ... 700 pupils of the central school, their parents and friends. Numerous remarks ... [illegible] ... this impression. Hence in my letter of resignation I ... general manner treated ... a ... connected and harmonious movement ... against our schools as established by law for the benefit of the commonwealth and in favor of ... theory that these schools under our state laws ... primarily and mainly intended to be ... I am still of that opinion and I regard the cry of extravagance on the part of those at least who hold the latter doctrine as raised to withdraw attention from their own purposes and to justify ... which I think time will prove to have been unwise. If in this opinion I have done injustice to either party I beg their pardon.

THE CHARGE OF EXTRAVAGANCE IN THE ERECTION OF THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL WALL ... [illegible]

On February 21, 1883, we sold block 170 (Central school). This made it imperative for the board without delay to provide necessary accommodations for the pupils of the Central school. There remained but only one way to proceed, that was to erect with all delay a new school house on the Beck ... We proceeded to take the steps necessary to do so.

The first thing to be done was to determine on the plan, the next whether to build with wood or with brick, and finally to call for bids and to let the contract. You must be aware that there was very little time for the consideration of these matters, the building was intended to be open for pupils at the September term, or at least one or two months later. The board were not dilatory; they gave every matter connected with the building the most careful attention and used every means in their power to ascertain the wishes of the taxpayers ... On February 23 Mr. Stokes submitted his sketches and plans (which he had already prepared) to the board.

By consulting several architects, we ascertained that it would cost (in the spring of 1883) about one sixth more to build with brick than if wood was used.

At this time two new directors were to be elected to serve in the board. Mr. Wasserman, Mr. Versteeg, Mr. Whitehouse, Dr. Plummer and I. ... [illegible] Mr. F. Taylor had been put forward by their friends as candidates. The board regarded these men as in some respect representative and invited each of them to meet with the board, at the gas company's office, to confer on the new building and on the plans for it. They all responded (if my memory be correct) and sat with the board. Mr. Stokes and other plans were submitted, discussed and the question put: shall we adopt these plans? The vote was unanimous to adopt them. The question whether to build with brick or with wood was then considered and voted upon. The vote was unanimous to build with brick.

It was the duty of the board to prepare and submit their estimates, plans and purposes to the taxpayers at their meeting, soon to come off. Everything was carefully considered and elaborated by them in the very brief time between the sale of the Central school block, February 10, and the taxpayers' annual meeting, March 5, and we as in duty bound, without our reserve, submitted everything to the meeting and asked for instructions. We said in our report, read to the meeting, that we wished the responsibility taken from our shoulders by those who alone were competent to do it—the taxpayers present. The request was twice verbally repeated from the chair that those present would instruct us whether it was their wish that we should build with wood or with brick. We got no reply. It was thus referred to our own judgment. Silence gives consent. Just here the responsibility can be fixed. The taxpayers present at that meeting who refused our request to instruct us should now be silent and not rail at us for building with brick at a cost of one-sixth more than it will have erected the structure in wood. I don't hold any charges, at this time, of fraudulent ... or ... of personal advantages sought by the board for themselves or for others in their behalf. The whole extravagance then lies in using brick at a cost at that particular time of 16⅔ per cent more than if wood had been used. Reasonable persons in judging the actions of the board, will consider all the circumstances under which they acted. First, the pressing necessity of early and prompt action; second, the short time in which the board had to consider plans, cost of building and other matters, and last and not least the extremely inflated condition of the market for labor, material, etc., and particularly for lumber. I am told that a wooden dwelling can now be built (or $5000) that last year would have cost $6500. Contracts for building in brick have been let recently at 15 per cent less than the same could have been built for last year. Have these facts any bearing on the high cost of our school building, and if when the board after bids had been received and opened knew that the cost would greatly exceed the estimates submitted to them and by them adopted, will anyone say that they should have adopted a policy of masterly inactivity, refuse to do anything but wait till they could consult their masters, the taxpayers, at their meeting in March 1884? The board thought otherwise, they felt that it was their duty under the law to proceed and provide accommodations for the pupils who were now thrown out of the Central building. The high school building could only be viewed by them as an unfortunate accident which they could not control and for which they should not now be made responsible. I am quite satisfied with my share in the transaction and feel assured that time will fully justify the use of brick, and that the building will be completed and be regarded with pride and pleasure by our citizens long after the cost has been paid and forgotten. I think we should erect our public buildings not for the present moment only, but for the future. We should build wisely and well. Parsimony in public affairs is not always economy. Look to the experience with the Central, the North, and I may add the Harrison buildings. For years they required constant large outlays to adapt them to their use, and even then, they were unsatisfactory school buildings.

THE ARCHITECT.

You allude to the employment of Mr. Stokes as architect and to the purchase of furniture in Chicago. Having already used so much space I can say only a few words on the matter. When it was known that the board had the Stokes plan under consideration a determined effort was made by some parties from California to prevent the board from employing him. Various allegations against his character as a man and architect were made to the board in writing and verbally and references were given to prominent gentlemen in Oakland. I had never met Mr. Stokes and did not know him. The board had little time to lose in the matter, but did investigate it pretty thoroughly. They telegraphed to the parties named by his enemies, and corresponded by mail, and were satisfied that the attack on his character was prompted mainly by personal feelings and was not then sufficient foundation for them to notice in their relations with him as architect. I called on several leading architects to see if they wished to submit to us their plans for the new building. All declined except one because the time allowed was too short for them to prepare plans. I found none willing to offer their services for less than 4 percent for brick. The board engaged Mr. Stokes' services for 4 per cent and bound him firmly, with an unusually strong contract, to serve them as architect. Having determined to employ a foreman to be constantly on the building they got from Mr. Stokes a reduction of ... per cent. Thus they pay 2½ for their architect against 4 which they would have had to pay another and for this are charged with extravagance. Mr. Stokes has done no work for me—is not my architect—but justice compels me to say that a leading contractor, who seemed opposed to his being employed by the board, said to me that no other man here could draw so fine plans as he had drawn. And another contractor, who was one of those who bid unsuccessfully for the erection of the brick work, told me after seeing the details in his office that no architect in this city could do such work. Of course these remarks are only rhetorical flourishes, and mean no more than that Mr. Stokes is a first rate designing architect.

As for his low estimates submitted to taxpayers March, 1883, I don't feel called to enter into a defense of them. It would be only fair to state that the short time in which the estimates had to be prepared should be considered. No details at this time had been drawn or even determined. The architect had been requested to go over his work carefully, to take time and to make extension of figures to get an approximately correct estimate. He was informed that we had no money to spend on mere ornament, that beauty must be sought for in form, in external lines framed of brick and mortar. We would have no carvings, no cast iron or galvanized iron ornaments or cast iron that was not essential to construction. All this has been observed in the present building. Mr. Stokes spent two weeks working on figures to get his estimate for us. He said that the details not being yet determined or made out, he had to carry them out in his mind, and hence his work must be more or less imperfect. His estimates were the best we could get at the time and were used in the cost values of the preceding year. You can make the application.

THE FURNITURE.

The board required 450 desks and sixty backs. Three bids were received: two from parties in this city and one from a Chicago house. Bids for the standard desk and the Paragon were asked for, the board reserving the right of refusing to accept bids for either. The bids for the Paragon were accepted from the Chicago house. The difference between the cost of buying from the Chicago house and the Portland firm who bid on the Paragon was $412. It was felt that in view of the pecuniary condition of the district at this time it was our duty to buy where we could get our supplies the cheapest. The saving to the district by this action of the board in employing their architect and in the purchase of furniture is a nice round sum of money easily estimated, and yet if uncontradicted, must go to our credit as extravagance. The ...

... was called without my knowledge. I was not present and know not what transpired (at least I have forgotten what was told me). The members of the board were much driven with work and Mr. Wadhams who called the gentlemen to meet there, had not time to communicate with me on this occasion. Each of the three directors was at this time often fully engaged on work apart from the other, and only zealous for the public good.

A gentleman who was invited, but I believe did not attend, has informed me that he and those who were present regarded the action of the board in asking their advice and then refusing to act on it, as gross ... insulting to them all. I regret that this should be the case. I also remember that ... in this matter and supposing there were ten ... on this matter ... at that meeting, all in favor of using wood, I can safely say more than ten times that number gave us advice to build with brick. When I asked a gentleman for his opinion I did not expect to be bound by it, nor did I think he expected me to act upon it. The object of the board in soliciting opinions was to get the general sense in some measure of the taxpayers and more particularly of such as the heavy tax payers as time and opportunity permitted us to see. The opinions of men are not of equal value. Their votes and I may add their right are. This principle has been often, and well illustrated in THE OREGONIAN on the subjects of temperance, prohibition and other questions of public policy. In order to give due regard to the ... or number we sought the opinions of many large and small taxpayers.

Since I commenced writing this, I have learned much of the true animus of several gentlemen who voted with the majority on March 3d. It does now seem as though a small ... comedy of errors had been enacted, the result has been that some men find themselves placed, by my first letter in a false position. Men like yourself, whose whole life has been consistently devoted on all proper occasions to the maintenance and support of our system of common schools, don't like to see themselves, now held up by me before the public as making an effort to degrade the same.

I have been told that several of the majority voted for 5 mills supposing this to be the usual amount for running the schools and that another motion would have been made for a certain sum for building purposes, and they were surprised to find instead a motion to adjourn put and carried. I must say in my own justification that I had to judge the meeting by the general action and there can be no mistaking the fact ... the majority strongly expressed a want of confidence in the board, and sat down on them lustily.

The board have served the public faithfully and with much sacrifice of valuable time (myself except...) since the time when the rapid growth of our city made it necessary to build three large school houses so recent that two are still unfinished, and even if they have made some errors of judgment I do not think they deserved the treatment they have received from the majority on the 3d. In this matter I consider myself quite impersonal and I have only respect for those who differ with me as to the ... in which our public schools should be ... I remain yours most respectfully,

JOHN WILSON.

A ... [illegible]

P. S. March 21. As the subject that has led both ... to appear in print at this time ... will ... this day's OREGONIAN. And first I must ... that my personal service or that of any other man are in any way essential to the public service. There are many men in a respect better fitted and as well disposed to serve our public schools as I am. The only difference has been that I have had more leisure to serve than they and that having been called pretty loudly I responded. I thank my friends all the same for the unmerited compliments they have bestowed up on me.

THE OREGONIAN asserts Mr. Wilson ... school directors will ... his colleagues deem ... fully vindicated ... To this I answer that should the other friends ... at the last annual meeting nominate their man and run him on their principles and elect him it would only prove that the majorities that formerly called us to a place in the board had now joined the other side and that the principles upon which our schools have hitherto for fifteen years been conducted are now disapproving by the majority and that our board ... will be made to bring them into harmony with the views of the present (?) majority, and if this be so, why not? Our government is based on the federal system upon his principle ... the majority must prevail. Try it, gentlemen.

The question of extravagance is ... the issue in this contest. I believe many will vote for me who will not charge extravagance, yet would prefer a cheaper building and lower taxation.

The article further says that THE OREGONIAN did not support the action of the majority and was not responsible in any way for what was done at the school meeting or for the utterances of the meeting. I now ... satisfied of the truth of these statements. It is of no importance who is responsible for that meeting. I have no doubt that the men who are responsible will maintain their principles and meet the taxpayers again and again, until ... questions are placed ... by being fixed in law and in harmony with the wishes of the majority. Again referring to those in the meeting who sat down ... the board. THE OREGONIAN says: "On the part of those citizens who protested at the meeting * * * there will be most culpable indifference to an important matter if they do not by proposing some proper man as a candidate take action to sustain what they did in the meeting." This has the true ring in it. I won't long serve a minority after I find it ... I suppose ... was at my back are found to be on the other side. Come out and vote me to stay at home if such be your will. I shall be pleased at either event. Yours ...

EXCAVATING ACCIDENT.

While William Exon, aged 19, son of John ... was excavating yesterday under Thomas Turnbull's dwelling on Eighth street, between I and J, about 150 pounds of earth, which he had undermined, suddenly fell upon him, holding him a prisoner under its weight. Mr. Turnbull and another gentleman who were near soon rendered the necessary assistance and had him conveyed to his residence, corner of Ninth and G streets. Dr. Dav Raffety was summoned and found him considerably stove up in the region of the hip and spine, where the bulk of the weight had rested, but no bones broken. It cannot yet be determined whether he is injured internally but symptoms are in his favor.

LADIES AND LIQUOR.

The novel spectacle of ladies visiting saloons was witnessed in East Portland yesterday. Mrs. S. P. Wilson, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. A. Fox and Mrs. W. Boeschen, zealots in the temperance cause, having organized for work, determined upon a personal canvass of the business portion of the city, which they carried into effect yesterday, not forgetting the saloons on their rounds. They carried with them a variety of temperance literature in pamphlet form and accompanied the distribution of the same with advice and entreaty. They were generally received courteously, and allowed to conduct their business of their visit without complaint or interference. It is safe to say, however, there were some surprised individuals in town yesterday than for many a day and many a "good boy" was caught in a place where he had a little rather have not been just at that particular time when the ladies filed in, one becoming particularly mortified and embarrassed upon being given a tract and asked to take it to his sister.

NEW TRIAL DENIED.

J. W. Murray, the Murderer of Alfred Tenke, again in Court—Sentence to be Passed Upon Him Next Monday.

There was quite a large attendance at the opening of the circuit court yesterday morning, it having been announced that Judge Smith would deliver his decision upon the motion for a new trial made by the attorneys of J. W. Murray, convicted of the murder of his brother-in-law Alfred Tenke. The court having convened Murray was brought up from his cell in the jail below and permitted to take his seat with his counsel, Messrs. Coy and Dalmas. Judge Smith, in delivering his decision, said:

The motion is ... defective. It was simply ... to set aside the verdict. There were four or five different grounds of error set forth in the argument. The first being that the evidence was not sufficient to support the verdict. Instance was cited of the unqualified testimony of four or five persons who said he was insane, whose testimony the jury ... have ignored. This testimony was rebutted and the jury had a right to sit as judges in the case. Besides no one testified that he was at the time of shooting insane. The second point made was that there was not sufficient evidence to establish malice. I am inclined to think the testimony on this point was ... clear. It would seem that he did not know he was firing at Alfred Tenke. He had not particularly threatened him, but he had said he would kill any one who went home with his wife. He fired to kill whoever might be with her and though he may not have known who it was, he did it maliciously. The third point is that the court erred in instructing the jury that insanity must be established beyond a reasonable doubt. In this case the court instructed the jury that the law presumes every man to be sane, and presuming him sane, he was guilty. I do not take the view of the attorneys for defense, that in this case the theory of insanity is entitled to so much weight. The legislature has not gone to that extent but the insanity according to it must be proven beyond the possibility of a doubt. The fourth is the error of the court in instructing the jury concerning insanity of prisoner. The state called a number of witnesses to prove his soundness of mind. Then the defense offered evidence in rebuttal. A good deal of evidence to the effect that a thing unusual had been seen ... to indicate his insanity. Every man is bound to conduct himself ... when he sees nothing ... indicates he is insane. The court allowed ... testify who had not known him intimately. The fifth is the refusal of the court to take no cognizance ... of drunkenness. The state asked if all these peculiarities might not be attributable to drunkenness, and the court admitted this evidence on the ground that it might explain his peculiar ... The motion is therefore denied."

District Attorney Caples hereupon asked that the prisoner receive his sentence from the court.

Mr. Dalmas said that the prisoner might ask to have the matter taken to the supreme court upon a bill of exceptions. He could not say as to this for he had not talked with him lately. He would be no longer connected with the case nor would his colleague, Mr. Coy. But in order to give the prisoner a chance to obtain other counsel if he so desired, he would ask that the sentence be still further postponed until Monday next.

Mr. Caples thought the prisoner's interests would not suffer by his being sentenced at the present time.

Judge Smith remarked that the delay asked for was so slight it would make little difference. He would therefore grant the request.

Murray sat quite composedly through the brief argument and during the entire time when the judge was delivering his opinion. He has not fallen off in flesh since the terrible verdict came in, but on the contrary, he looks better now than he did during the trial. He shows no signs of insanity. His deportment is excellent. Of late he has not seemed depressed in spirits. At 1 o'clock he was visited in his cell by a reporter. He was in excellent spirits and was eating a hearty dinner. He talked cheerfully and freely. In answer to a question he said he did not know that he would ask the supreme court for a new trial. He was under the impression that it would do no good. He had not engaged any other attorney and did not know that he should. His appearance and actions seem to warrant the belief that he cares little what is to become of him or else he has not a correct realization of his fate.

Programme of Anniversary Exercises to be Held by Various Churches To-Morrow.

During the last six months the Young Men's Christian Association in this city have enjoyed great prosperity. A few weeks ago they held their annual election, and will hold their anniversary to-morrow. The morning services will be conducted in the First Presbyterian church. The Baptist and Taylor Street Methodist will join in this service. The programme is as follows:

Anthem	Choir
Reading of Scriptures and prayer	Rev. A. L. Lindsley
Retiring president's address	Prof. R. K. Warren
Report of devotional committee	L. M. Parrish
Report of reception committee	Dr. E. C. Brown
Singing	Choir
Report of hotel distribution committee	W. I. Conant
Report of library and room committee	W. Jackson
Report of invitation committee	L. H. Suddemer
Report of general secretary	E. O. Frost
Address	Rev. G. W. Izer
Report of financial committee	President Clinton

The 3 o'clock afternoon services at the Y. M. C. A. hall will be conducted very much as the morning services so as to give those who were not able to attend the church services an opportunity of hearing a report of the work. The following is the programme for the 3 o'clock meeting:

Praise Service conducted by	Wm. Wadhams
Reading of Scriptures and Prayer	Rev. R. S. Stubbs
Retiring President's Address	Prof. R. K. Warren
Report of Devotional Committee	L. M. Parrish
Report of Reception Committee	Dr. E. O. Brown
Singing	Congregation
Report of Hotel Distribution Comm	W. I. Conant
Report of Library and Room Committee	W. Jackson
Report of Invitation Committee	L. H. Suddemer
Report of General Secretary	E. O. Frost
Address	J. K. Gill
Address	Rev. A. J. Hanson
Report of Financial Committee	Pres. D. M. Clinton

The Congregational, Calvary Presbyterian, Christian and Hall street Methodist will unite in an evening service to be held at the First Congregational church. The programme will be similar to that of the morning services.

EUGENE NOTES

EUGENE March 21

Our city election will be held on the first Monday in April The issue will be temperance and anti temperance and will be warmly contested

Mr Frank Rankin will take the photograph of the university class of '84 This is a highly commendable change. Heretofore artists from Portland have had the contract and, with the exception of one time the photographs were no better than they could have secured here

The number of deaths in our city as reported by Cherry & Day undertakers since July 20 1883 is eighteen. Twelve of these were from scarlet fever This certainly speaks well for the health of a town of 2400 inhabitants.

The senior class of 1884 of the State university have elected as their valedictorian Miss Bettie Shaw The salutatory is forbidden for all time to come Joaquin Miller will write the class poem The class-tree selected is an amabalis a forest king of the genus abies habitat western mountain ranges The members of the class are classical—W O Taylor B. B Beekman J M Neville G W Hill, J H Whitney Robert Collier Cosper Sharples scientific—W W Cordwell J D Fenton W T Eakin Miss Emma Beach and Miss Bettie Shaw

The officials of the various Presbyterian churches throughout the state are convened here to their annual presbytery The sessions are held in the Presbyterian church Rev J H Condit of Albany, is moderator, and Rev Milligan of Astoria clerk. Among the clergymen are Revs. Dr Lindsley and E P Lee of Portland Clyde of Lafayette Williams of Jacksonville Ghormley of East Portland Hormes of Corvallis Laughlin Robe and others Revs Forbes of Albina and Lockland of Oakland were ordained last evening Revs E R Geary and E Robe also Messrs. A E Flint Jacksonville and E T Albert, Salem, were elected delegates to the general assembly. Rev E Trumbull Lee will address the presbytery this evening

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

FRIDAY March 21

Imports of merchandise for the week have been steadily large both by coast er and rail the latter including large quantities of hardware agricultural implements and dry goods A large portion of grocery stocks are brought from San Francisco but trade with the east in this line is in [illegible] though not showing up as large as do other lines A [illegible] dispatch from San Francisco quotes merchants there as [illegible] the Oregon trade is fast passing from them This has been steadily apparent with [illegible] time past but any mention of it has constantly been met with denials Now that San Francisco drummers are going home with smaller orders than they confidently expected to secure their employers are less inclined to [illegible] In [illegible] The steady increase of arrivals by rail [illegible] that San Francisco was losing her grip on the northern trade For a time [illegible] and the upper country looked to the east with hopeful dreams of cheap stocks Some went so far as to buy largely in that direction This was to the exclusion of California and Portland jobbers as all goods bought direct from the east came in that pass through their hands Buying in this direction is still going on and their competition [illegible] are not bringing the heavy consignments they did last year at this time Portland merchants are strengthening their position and becoming more able to cope with eastern jobbers As they place themselves in a position to attract trade it will naturally come to them The past few days have shown an increased inquiry by interior merchants for goods from our market and this inquiry is coming from heavy dealers who are able to buy where they can to the best advantage The signs of the day certainly point to Portland being able to strengthen her position as a distributing center for the northwest

The weather has continued springlike with an occasional light shower The rainfall since August 1 last to the 1st inst or for the first seven months of the present season was 27 95 inches Since March 1 the fall has been 1 42 inches The fall for the first seven months of the season of 1880 81 was 43 15 in for 1881 2 the fall was 36 45 in and for 1882 3 55 91 in The fall for the entire season of 1880 81 was 54 37 in for 1881 82 48 28 in and for 1882 83 71 04 in Since August 1880 there has been but one month—July 1883—in which no rain fell at this point In June of 1883 but 03 fell and in July of 1882 but 07 The heaviest monthly fall noted in the same time was in December, 1882 and was 20 14 in November 1880 February, 1881 and January 1883, witnessed a fall of over 13 inches

Overland receipts include 70 cs canned goods 8 bf 50 kgs 50 cs syrup 100 hf cans 100 bbls oatmeal 30 cs beef 60 tubs butter 25 bbls 60 bxs apples 6 cs cigars 451 pkgs tobacco 1800 cs coal oil 200 bxs tin 285 kgs nails

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours 1100 ctls wheat 1800 bbls flour 1 ctl barley 478 ctls bran 151 ctls millstuff 115 sks potatoes 100 lbs wool, 25 lbs hides 103 cs eggs 15 bxs fruit 4 bxs butter 84 bls hay, 800 bbls lime Also 10 753 ctls wheat 390 bbls flour, 160 ctls millstuff, [illegible] lbs wool 49 0 lbs hides 325 sks flax seed

FREIGHTS—The British ship River Indus 1045 tons, was to day taken up by the Portland Flouring Mills Company for flour The rate is noted 42s 6d for orders U K The Highland Light takes Walla Walla wheat, probably to continental port direct. Our San Francisco report to day refers to futures bid and asked. It is not likely that anything has been done thus far

WHEAT—Receipts are larger the bulk of which go into ship To night a steamer has 800 tons on board The Starbuck has taken on a quantity at the east side and will be at Albina soon for more The Merom has taken loading berth The market presents no new features Competition is limited to two or three buyers Chicago and San Francisco show a slight advance while the other side is depressed

Since August 1st last receipts of wheat at this point have been [illegible] tons valley and 86 33[illegible] tons Walla Walla—a total of 121 495 tons Flour receipts in the same time have been 32 [illegible] tons valley and 18 4[illegible] tons Walla Walla—a total of [illegible] 33 tons The total receipts of wheat and flour aggregate 171 527 tons Shipments in all directions and probable home consumption have been 5 790 tons leaving an apparent stock of 13 [illegible] use here

EGGS—Receipts again large with 15 cents top price

WOOL—No receipts and no market As stocks at the east become reduced buyers [illegible] desirable grades Ashland Woolen Mills company [illegible] shipment of 40 000 pounds by rail this week which about cleans up the old on hand Prospects are good for a large clip the coming season but values do not promise so well

HOPS—Receipts have been confined to a couple of [illegible] in course of shipment The market is [illegible] and shows nothing of interest Advices indicate no change elsewhere

POTASH.

[illegible] of Potash is one of the strongest of the mineral [illegible] and [illegible] produces much [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] poisons in the market [illegible] [illegible] Be careful how you take these mineral poisons as [illegible] instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution To take the place of these poisons we offer you a safe sure prompt and permanent relief from your troubles. Swift's Specific is entirely a vegetable preparation and it is easy to convince you of its merit.

I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Swift's Specific after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash.

F A TOOMER M D Perry Georgia.

A young man requests me to thank you for his cure of Blood Poison by the use of your Specific after all other treatment had failed.

TRIED HOT SPRINGS TWO LONG YEARS WITHOUT RELIEF

Mercurial Rheumatism made me a cripple After trying the springs two years, and the Mercury and Potash treatment [illegible] I was a skeleton and unable to do anything I was prevailed upon to take a course of S.S.S. After taking three bottles my appetite began to improve and I gained flesh rapidly When I had taken twelve bottles I felt as well as I ever did It is now twelve months since I took S S S. My health and appetite are good and I am able to attend to all the business I can get. CHAS BERG

WOLFE'S

Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps

As a general beverage necessary corrective of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes [illegible] SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. A public trial of over thirty years duration in every section of our country of UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS, its unsolicited indorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequaled by any other alcoholic distillation have insured for it the reputation for salubrity claimed for it. For sale by all druggists and grocers.
